Cut off the mounting tabs of the fuse box with a Dremel. Cover the remaining wiring with electrical tape and route it behind the air-conditioning cannister. Drill two rectangular holes (front and top) just large enough to admit a large zip tie. After wedging the bottom of the fuse box (release tab up) into the corner of the fan bracket, (you'll know when you've hit the right spot) connect the fuse box to the rear line of the cannister using a large zip tie.

Start by unbolting the master fuse box panel, follow the wires down, you'll see alt. charging wires goin over towards the alt, theyre tucked under the radiator support. You will also find the wires punch thru the under side of the fender and lead into the secondary fusebox panel thats at the driver side kick panel. Remove the whole thing. (forgot to mention, if you have a hard time remember plugs, wrap them with packaging tape and write their name on the tape, this sometimes helps alot)
