

Subject-Verb Agreement
EXPLAINED

Subject verb agreement means exactly what it says: that the subject agree with each other. Errors in subject verb agreement are one of the mistakes seen. Subjects must agree in number. The basic principle is Singular subjects need singular verbs; plural subjects need plural verbs.

IMPORTANT RULES TO KNOW

1. The indefinite pronouns anyone, everyone, someone, no one, nobody are always singular and, therefore, require singular verbs.
2. The pronouns neither and either are singular and require singular verbs even though they seem to be referring, in a sense, to two things.
3. Each is often followed by a prepositional phrase ending in a plural word (Each of the cars), thus confusing the verb choice. Each, too, is always singular and requires a singular verb.
4. Phrases such as together with, as well as, and along with are not the same as and. They do not compound the sentence.
5. When nor or or is used the subject closer to the verb determines the number of the verb.
